

Figure 3

Cranking

If the neck and head of a toothbrush are set at an angle to the handle, it is said to be cranked. If the angle is toward the face when holding the toothbrush it is concave. If the angle is away from the face when holding the toothbrush it is convex. If there is no angle it is considered flat.